

C-frame Presses

C-frame Presses

The C-frame press models currently available for supply have primarily been designed for the manual feeding of workpieces and thus for manual operation.

The individual machine setting options and the level of automation of the different machines including the in- and outfeeding of the workpieces depends on the working duty to be met.

Within a press rating range from 60 kN up to 4,000 kN we shall always find the appropriate version to satisfy your particular demands.